1. Coastlines. Europe has over 25,000 miles of coastline. Because of the coastline, how has the theme of movement been demonstrated?

2. What physical geography do the U.S. and Europe have in common that has allowed both areas to prosper economically?
You need to know that the EU:

1. The EU was a result of World Wars I and II and the devastation the wars brought to Europe.
2. The EU was formed to unite Europe and make it more economically successful.
3. The EU agreement is complicated, and not all European nations belong for many different reasons.
4. The EU money, called the euro, allows people, money and goods to move freely within most of the European Union.
5. The European Union has made its members a more powerful economic and political block because they all work together.
